Dear Tianjiao Cao,

We are happy to notify you that your submission

#1523: The Devil is in Fine-tuning and Long-tailed Problems: A New Benchmark for Scene Text Detection

has been accepted for publication in the proceedings of IJCAI-25. Congratulations! To access your reviews, please log in to your author console at CMT.

This year, IJCAI received 5404 submissions (not including desk rejected papers). From those, we accepted 1042 submissions for presentation at the conference, an acceptance rate of 19.3%. Submissions were reviewed by at least two reviewers (on average, 3.7 reviewers), an Area Chair, and an Senior Area Chair, in order to ensure each submission was assessed properly.

Note that no final decisions have yet been made on the assignment of papers to presentation formats. These will be made in the coming weeks, subject to availability of space and timing at the venue(s), and all accepted papers will receive an email accordingly.

The camera ready version is due on May 20, 2025. In a later message we will provide you with detailed copyright and formatting instructions so that you can prepare the final camera-ready version. As you prepare the final version, please take all the comments in the reviews and meta-review into account in order to publish the best possible paper.

The conference program will be available on the conference website in due course. Please also keep in mind the tutorial, workshop, competition, and art gallery programs. Please consider to attend and submit other work to one of the IJCAI-25 workshops. This year we have 35 workshops and many of the workshops are still accepting submissions. For details please check <https://2025.ijcai.org/workshops/>

For your paper to be published, at least one author must register at IJCAI-25 and plan to attend in order to present it. Registration will be open in a few days.

Important Note: Each accepted paper must be accompanied by at least one regular delegate registration. The registered author is required to attend the conference in person and present the paper in Montreal, if at all possible. If none of the authors are able to attend the main conference in Montreal (e.g., due to visa restrictions), they must present the paper in Guangzhou. Please complete the attendance requirement form at <https://forms.gle/NHJvuHxy5Mm94Hb39>. One form must be filled out for each accepted paper,

*** NOT later than May 7, 2025, midnight AoE. ***

Congratulations, and thank you for submitting your work to IJCAI. We are looking forward to seeing you at the conference!

regards

James Kwok (IJCAI-25 Program Chair)

Diego Calvanese, Yu-Feng Li, Fangzhen Lin, Long Tran-Thanh, Joey Zhou (IJCAI-25 Associate PC Chairs)
